The Lewiston Journal says: We hear that Mr. A. Von Duren, the violinist, of Lewiston has received an offer from Barnum to join the orchestra of his great moral show. Mr. Von Duren has not decided to accept. Mr. Von Duren is a brilliant musician.

The condition of Miss Hannah Decker of Lewiston is slowly improving. Thursday she was able to raise her head from the pillow, the first time since she was injured. That the prospect is favorable for her complete recovery is the opinion of her physician.

A nine years old daughter of Mr. George Gray of Lewiston, fell and broke an arm the other day. She stumbled over a grain box and went against the city. This is the third time the child's arm has been broken.

The Times says: Owing to a scarcity of cars on the B. & B. R. R. recently one of the Mr. Farnham's potato buyers who had ordered 20 cars of potatoes to Boston was delayed for several days in the shipment of them, during which time they went up 20 cents per bushel and he realized the handsome margin of upwards of $1000 more than he expected. This only goes to illustrate the many benefits to be derived from having a railroad.

Cumberland

Mr. Preston P. Burnell of West Baldwin met with a severe accident Wednesday by having the thumb on his left hand sawed off, and the inside of the hand badly lacerated by a circular saw, while at work in L. S. Merrill's mill at Conway, N. H.

The ice has gone out of Lake Sebago and the canal boats have begun their season's business.

Artie Bickford was thrown from a carriage at the Sebago Lake station Friday morning and so badly injured that he lay insensible for hours. It is thought he will recover.

Mrs. James B. Libby of Portland, died Friday. She was an invalid for many years, but had improved in health a short time ago. Recently however she was attacked by the disease which has proved fatal.

A Portland gentleman who occupied a tenement in this town one hot week with another, saw his fellow tenant's gold watch carelessly exposed on a table and he took possession of it and put it in a safe place. The fellow tenant reported a robbery at the police station when the first gentleman explained that he thought he would teach the other a lesson.

Mr. Charles Watts, a man past sixty years of age, had the misfortune to break his ankle joint Thursday by the falling of a pile of lumber at J. L. Conges's saw mill.

During the severe thunder storm passing over Monmouth Centre, Thursday, the dwelling house of J. P. Folsom and M. L. Getchell was struck by lightning. The house was nearly new, two stories with ell. The bolt entered the top of the chimney in the main house, completely shattering it and throwing the bricks in every direction some of them quite across the street, coming down into the rooms below, tearing off doors, plastering, etc., making havoc of every thing in its way. Separating into parts it made its way out of the building in opposite directions. In one direction running the distance of 50 feet along the outside and through the building to the ground. Although Mr. Folsom's wife and Mr. Getchell's wife and child were in different parts of the dwelling, no bones were injured in a very providential escape. The storm was severe, but not accompanied with much wind, however.

About 8 A. M. Saturday Mr. A. G. Savage of the firm of Savage Bros. of Bath, left his store to step into the adjoining office leaving the key in the door. On his return twenty minutes later he found his store had been entered and the cash drawer robbed of a wallet containing upwards of $350.

Thursday, Mrs. G. I. Brookings, of Woolwich was run against by a loaded team making severe contusions below and above the left knee.

A meeting of the Kennebec Valley Camp meeting Association was held Thursday and it was decided to begin the annual campmeeting on the grounds at Richmond on Monday, August 25th, to close on Monday, Sept. 15th.

There is living in the house of the late Samuel H. Poole at Round Pond near Bath five generations, names and ages as follows: Mrs. Sally Yates, aged about 90 years, her daughter, Mrs. S. H. Poole aged about 73, her grand daughter Mrs. Frances Burns aged about 45, her great grand-son, aged about 27, her great great grand-son, aged about 5 weeks. These comprise one family, and may be seen eating at the same table, daily.

Washington.

The lobster season has opened and the Eastport factories have started up. It is estimated that there are upwards of 15 000 lobster traps between Cutler and Lepreaux. A greater part of the lobsters caught in these limits are canned at Eastport.

Com. John C. Beaumont took command of the Kittery Navy Yard on May Day.

The life-saving station at Biddeford Pool is discontinued from May 1st till September following.

Mr. George Bowden of York, who was indicted last September for setting fire to the house of Mathias M. Todd in Kittery, has commenced a suit against N. C. Marshall of York, who is alleged to have instigated the indictment, laying damages at $15,000.

O. A. Tarbox of Kennebunk lost a horse last Monday morning, valued at $125.

The Somerset Reporter says: Hugh Smith of Buxton, who was sentenced to State Prison several years since for manslaughter, in permitting his insane wife to perish from cold and hunger, has been pardoned by Gov. Garcelon.

Monday afternoon Georgie K., twelve year old son of Mr. Horace and Mrs. Annie Harmon, of Buxton, was shot by the accidental discharge of a rifle. The rifle fell from a shelf above the piazza, striking the floor about eight feet from Georgie, and the bullet entered his leg immediately above the knee and left the leg four inches higher up, shattering the bone badly. Death ensued in twelve hours. He was a boy of more than common ability and will be sadly missed in this and now one of the most happy families of Buxton.

THE DEAKIN AND HIS NIGGER

NASBY'S STORY SHOWING THE FOLLY OF THE EXODUS AND THE KIND AND GENEROUS TREATMENT THE NEGROES ARE FLEEING FROM

CONFEDERAN ROADS (Which is in the State of Kentucky.) April 1—

The North is filled with all sorts uv absurd tomes on the treatment the colored citizens are receivin in the South. The dispatches have been clearly to prejoodis the North against the Southern Section which was crushed in an unholy conspiracy against rights and which they never recovered from the same.

It is especially charged that the nigger has no rights in the Court, and that when opposed by a proud Kentucky Colonel he is crowded to the wall without the slightest chance for his life. To how the utter nonsense uv this statement I have a truthful report in a case tried before Squire Pettus, Justice uv the Peace for our township.

Simeon Claghorn (he calls himself now) the hewer a slave want uv that was sold at this same Deckin Pogrim (which is the name he assumes to decorate the memory of the late Mrs. Pogrim intoonate lady never she was his mother) he hiring the income Pogrim nose) was a tenant uv the Deckin and he bin for two years. The aged old pa the Deckin $10 a year per acre for the land and also agreed to have his entire crop uv cotton, Deckin to furnish the seed uv the first year the Deckin took his entire crop and bought him a new hat like $400 which the nigger did not work out in the winter cutting up the rails into fence rails, from the Deckin's woods, which Deckin never knew he ever cut the wood and deprived him of his labor.

The next season the nigger found himself in debt about $500 and he so informed the Deckin in a letter to Joe Bigler who is present in Pettus's court. Deckin was in Europe at the time and got Deckin with Joe Bigler and his wife. Joe Bigler is a nigger lawyer, a kore, acquainted with the law and still which he had turned over to the Deckin, and he interviewed a counsel uv the Supreme Court, and he said that the nigger could be put onto the stand to swear against the Deckin.

I protested. Is a nigger a fit thing to come into the court room? Joe Bigler says he is supposed, bein' a nigger, to be honest and new this testimony is given under the ground that we shall not be overpowered by the testimony of white men.

Suffice it to say I yielded. Deckin in person and Joe Bigler with his client came into court. Joe Bigler brought a suit against the Deckin for the amount he claimed was due him for his services as a nigger in the cotton fields. Deckin said he owed him nothing, that he was a free nigger in the State of Kentucky, and that the Deckin had never recognized any relation between them. Joe Bigler said he was a free nigger in the State of Kentucky, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Illinois, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Ohio, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Indiana, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Iowa, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Kansas, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Nebraska, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Dakota, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Utah, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Nevada, and that he was a free nigger in the State of California, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Oregon, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Washington, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Idaho, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Montana, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Wyoming, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Colorado, and that he was a free nigger in the State of New Mexico, and that he was a free nigger in the State of Arizona

THAT LEAKY CAUCUS.

The N. Y. Herald pokes fun at the smelling Committee of the Democratic caucus which tramped all over the Capitol trying to find out how their proceedings "leaked out," and it offers them this solution of the mystery: "Is it possible that the committee have not heard of Mr. Edison with his microphone and his megaphone? A very small aperture fitted with these instruments gathers in the sounds of the entire caucus, a phonograph notes them down, and then as the speeches are reeled off again in their "native wood-notes wild," the skilled reportorial ears detect in this the warblings of a gentleman from Virginia, in that the burr of a man from Kalamazoo, in a third the twang of a member from New York and in a fourth the twang of a son of the Pilgrims from Boston. We disclose this simple process to relieve the minds of the agitated caucus, showing them at the same time how science opposes secrecy, and because so dignified a body should not be disturbed about looking for a leak of the reportorial kind while studying how it can with the greatest grace eat the leek of the President's message."

THE LOST CAUSE REVIVED.

The speeches delivered at the recent Confederate memorial exercises in the South, show anything but a desire to "bury the issues of the war." Instead of that they resounded with assertions of the patriotism and righteousness of the Rebellion, and anticipations of the speedy triumph of the Lost Cause. Thus Major Wm. T. Gary said at Augusta, Georgia, amid vociferous applause:

"We have no apologies to offer for our love for our dead, nor for the cause in which they died. We believed it was right then, and we believe it is right to-day. We will not sacrifice principles for policy.—Speak not of it to us as lost. Weighted down by false issues, it became war wearied, and war accomplished what war can do. But it will live on and never die. The cannon of our war-wed, but the echoes of Lexington and Bunker Hill. The principles of constitutional liberty are embedded in American soil as immovable as its mountains, and to-day the sober second thought of the American people is conceding that which war could not accomplish. Unarmed, we will yet conquer; our principles will yet prevail, and constitutional liberty be the shibboleth of the free."

THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

[From the Belfast Journal.]

The defeat of Hon. Eugene Hale in this Congressional district last fall was the occasion for a good deal of cheap wit, which only resulted in exposing the imbecility of its authors. A man who had twice been tendered and twice refused Cabinet positions, who has achieved a national reputation as a political leader in Congress, and who is still a young man, is neither to be eclipsed by a single reverse or injured by the exhibition of petty malice and envy on the part of a few malcontents. With those who industriously circulated the report that Mr. Hale was about to emigrate to Michigan, and seek political honors there, the wish was no doubt father to the thought. Those who know Mr. Hale know that he never had or could have any such intention. He is a native of the Pine Tree State, his interests are their interests, and here he will remain to fulfill the duties of citizenship to the best of his abilities in whatever station, whether public or private, he may be called upon to act. That he is not in Congress, representing the people of this district, is a greater loss to the district than to Mr. Hale. The district is now practically disfranchised. We have no voice in public affairs and exert no influence in national legislation. The majority which sent Murch to Washington has been wiped out. The party to which he belongs has been extinguished by resumption. So that he is practically without a constituency, without a party, and certainly is without influence. If an election was to be held in this district to-day, there is no doubt but that there would be an overwhelming majority for Hale and hard money.—Belfast Journal.

The Commercial is gradually jonfolding its conception of "Independent Democracy." Last evening it varied the Fraud cry by abusing the citizens of Hopsham, Maine, who express sympathy for the sufferings of the colored refugees from Southern persecution, and by printing a charge that General John A. Logan recruited troops for the Confederate army. Apology and defence for the organizers of such horrors as those of Coushatte and Hamburg, ridicule and abuse of the persecuted colored race and all who express sympathy for them; championship and eulogy for those who fought under the "stars and bars;" insult and slander for the leaders of the loyal armies—such, it seems, are leading features of "Independent Democracy."

According to the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Senator Chandler recently remarked that people could nominate him for the Presidency as long as they pleased, but he was not, and never would be, a candidate. Some of the loudest talk about him, he said, had come from papers that had criticised the Administration of Gen. Grant, of which he was a part, and he never would, and never had allowed it to be said that he was better than that Administration. He was not the candidate of Pharisaical reformers for any office, and had no part or lot with them; and, as for the Presidency, he was too old and tough to get that fever; besides he knew a better man.

Fred Douglass, who has been for many years tolerably severe against bull-dozing, very calmly advises his colored brethren at the South to grin and bear it, and trust to a hope of future relief. Some of them will be likely to remember that Fred once got up an "exodus" on his own account and summarily emigrated from that climate to which he says his race are specially adapted. And just at that time he did not seem to take much stock in the advice of people who talked as he does now about the advantage of sticking to the old plantation and submitting to persecution with due humility.

Solon Chase, "father of the Greenback movement" in Maine, has not only lost control of his paper, the Chronicle, but the new managers, one of whom is Col. Blood, one of Mrs. Woodhull's husbands, jeer at him, as will be seen from the following squib in the last issue: "Solon Chase is to town to-day. We understand he has been offered a position on the editorial staff of the Argus, also a position on the staff of the Rockland Opinion."

If the Boston Post thinks it worth while to print silly stories about Republican dissensions in Maine, it ought to have enterprise enough to get up something original, instead of stealing the weak twaddle of the Herald's Washington special.

VARIOUS PARAGRAPHS.

The Democrats have opened the sandbox and reversed their engine.

Capt. Jacob Demond, the eldest native born citizen of Concord, N. H., is dead at the age of 90 years.

Gen. Caleb Cushing's estate, which was roughly estimated at three-quarters of a million at his death, will not exceed $100,000 in value.

Gov. Prescott of New Hampshire, has directed that his military staff report as a mounted body for duty on the day of inauguration of Governor-elect Head.

A work by Beethoven was recently discovered at Vienna. It is a chorus with orchestra, and is supposed to form part of the great master's cantata—"Der Glorreiche Augenblick."

Since the Democrats have a majority in the House the restaurant [and bar-room] is to be enlarged by removing the bath-house to another building.—N. Y. Herald.

Miss Mary Hall, a sister of the late Ezra Hall, has been appointed by Judge Beardsley a Commissioner of the Superior Court of Connecticut. The New Haven Journal says that this is the first appointment of a woman to an office of this kind in the State.

The Lowell Courier says that the favorite air sung by the Democrats in Congress just now is from "Trial by Jury"—"A nice dilemma we have here." Undoubtedly it is varied with a frequent refrain from Captain Corcoran's song in "Pinafore," ending with the words "D—it, its too bad."

Gen. Pembertob, who surrended Vicksburg to Grant, has taken up his residence in Philadelphia, and asks to have his political disabilities removed. He evidently thinks such a record as his good for a Democratic election to Congress.

The world will never fully know how much it owes to science. A "scientific" man who has been investigating the coal-oil regions of Pennsylvania has come out with the alarming theory that the oil comes from the bearing of the earth's axis, and that the earth will cease to turn when the lubrication ceases. Therefore he holds the opinion that the government ought to interfere at once and put a stop to this pumping and boring for, this gudgeon-grease of the universe.

A CRY FOR MORE FREEDOM.

In the doubtful dusk of the morning grey,
With hammer and drill and jimmy and crank,
Some high toned men they plundered a bank,
And the precious spoil they carried away.
What desolation the owner found!
And he said, "A lesson it teaches me,
I'll set a line of soldiers around;
These high toned chores've been too free—
It seems to me
They've been too free!"

And he stationed soldiers, solemn and still,
And his vaults he piled with the gold a-pile;
Then came on tiptoe the high-toned men
With hammer and crow and jimmy and drill;
"We are crushed in the tyrant's fangs" they cried,
As they met the troopers; "we're a place may be"
The execrable cruelty wounds one deeper;
If they went off we should feel more free—
Withdraw 'em and we Should feel more free."

The high-toned men they lingered there,
With jimmy and drill and hammer and crow,
And they kept a walking to and fro,
With a persecuted and saddened air,
And a mule-team waited beside the wall.
"You troopers go off and let us be"
They said. "We aint doin' nothin' at all,
But if you 'uns went we should feel more free.
We all agree
We should feel more free."

And the high-toned men uttered dismal cry aks,
And flourished their jimmy and hammer and saw
And shouted, "You'll ought to obey the law
Which says that you shan't be a watchin' alike!"
Then the owner said, "I remember you
You were here afore and you went for me;
I've had full swing what wouldn't be due
Facts, I guess you let been by free—
Perhaps," says he,
"A leetle too free!" —Tribune.

A Northern newspaper correspondent, who was sent to Mississippi to investigate the negro exodus, on arriving at Jackson called upon Governor Stone and asked if he would be permitted to talk with the negroes on the plantations. "I don't know about that," said the Governor, "our people are a little jealous of any interference. It might not be pleasant for you if you were mistaken for an emigrant agent." Finally the Governor gave the correspondent a "pass" explaining his object, and the man went his way. But then Lamar says there is nothing elsewhere like the freedom and loveliness of things in Mississippi.

PROTECTION IN FRANCE. A meeting of delegates from fifty-eight protectionist Chambers of Commerce was held in Paris, May 1. Among the cities represented were Amiens, Caen, Orleans, Rouen, Tours and Valenciennes. M. Pouyer-Quertier presided. In his address he declared that free trade merely played into the hands of England, who was in danger of losing her European and American markets. The meeting adopted a petition demanding the establishment of retaliatory tariffs which would insure the existence of native industry.

Mr. Henry Kiddle, the Superintendent of Public Schools in New York city, has astonished the public by announcing himself as a convert to spiritualism and by publishing a book in which he professes to give the text of communications he has received from the spirits of departed saints, scholars, statesmen, poets, etc. He believes that his book is to open a great controversy over the mysteries of the future life, but his professed revelations are so stupid that they can only excite regret at such delusion.

Governor Garcelon and his Greenback Council in Maine, in order to make a place for a furnishing Greenbacker, have created without legislative warrant a State Pension department, to disburse some $20,000, which has been done under Republican rule by the Adjutant General. The amalgamated managers in Maine are getting ready to spell reform with a small "r."—Boston Journal.

Chicago sent the yellow fever sufferers in New Orleans $100,000 last summer. A day or two ago the New Orleans Times sneeringly said that "the generous people of Chicago subscribed the munificent sum of $58 80 toward relieving the starving negroes at Wyandotte, Kan." There is no moral to this little story.

Judge Hoke, of Louisville, holds to the opinion that the chief end of law is justice; and though not a strict formalist—certainly not a martinet—he gives eminent satisfaction to his people. An Irishman was applying for his naturalization papers, and there was some hitch in the matter because he had not filed his declaration in time. The judge inquired if he had served in the army; if he had, the United States made a distinction in such instances. "Plase your Honor," said the applicant, "I have, I was in the rebel army for four years; was at Chickamangy and—" "Oh, well," said the judge; Mr. Clerk, give him his papers; it is time these invidious distinctions were done away with."—Louisville (Ky.) Medical News.

THE FATE OF THE SHENANDOAH. Everybody has heard of the Shenandoah, the notorious privateer of the Southerners of the American civil war; but I do not suppose that many know what was the ultimate fate of the ship when the war ended. Of all places in the world, she now lies "fathoms deep" off the Island of Socotra, in the Arabian Gulf. Her story is a strange one. She was busy burning whalers in Behring Straits, when Waddell, her commander, the "mildest-mannered man who ever scuttled ship or cut a throat," heard of the collapse of the South. His occupation being gone, and being without home or harbor to which he dared with safety return, he ran the Shenandoah to Liverpool, and immediately surrendered her to Her Majesty's ship Donegal in the Mersey. She was handed over to the American Consul Fleming & Co.—a firm that has earned a notoriety in connection with the failure of the City of Glasgow Bank—for the Sultan of Zanzibar. After remaining idly at Zanzibar for some years she was sent to Bombay for repairs, but foundered off Socotra, all hands being lost, except one Englishman and a few Lascars.—London World.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the purposes of a Family Physic.

CURING

Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a former bill, and by purifying the blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. They effect a cure where all other pills fail. They are safe and pleasant to take, and powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood, they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and force to the whole being. They cure not only the everyday complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because as mild as and as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

WASHINGTON May 5

Mr Eaton introduced a bill similar to that of the House to prohibit military interference at elections Referred to the Judiciary Committee

The Senate resumed consideration of the bill to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases.

House

Under the call of States for the introduction of bills Mr Ladd, of Maine offered the following which was referred to the Military Committee

Whereas the presence of troops at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions and traditions of our people, and tend to destroy the freedom of elections therefore be it

Resolved that it shall not be lawful to detail or employ at any place where a special or special election is being held in any State any part of the army or navy of the United States unless such be necessary to repel armed enemies of the United States or be applied for by the Legislature or executive of the State where such force is to be used

A large number of other bills and resolutions were introduced among them one by Mr Morch of Maine to establish a bureau of labor statistics It provides that the bureau be located at the seat of government and be composed of one commissioner and four associates appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate chosen from persons actually employed in productive labor; that the duties of the bureau be to investigate and at each annual session of Congress report upon — First the wages and hours of labor, second the division of joint productions of labor and capital between the laborer and the employer, third, the social education and military condition of labor, fourth the effect upon laborers produced by the existing system of commerce finance and currency the number of laborers employed and the classification of the various grades of labor subjects which affect the condition of the laboring classes. The bureau is authorized to examine witnesses wherever in the United States under like regulations as govern the examinations made by the United States Circuit Courts. Referred to the Committee on Education

Mr Morch also introduced bills fixing the duty on crude India rubber, to complete the foundation of the Washington monument, and also calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury to transmit copies of the original contracts for cutting granite for the custom houses at Cincinnati and St Louis the post-office and court house buildings at Philadelphia and Hartford, and for the State, War and Navy department building also copies of contracts under which work is now being performed and copies of all correspondence pertaining thereto and to inform the House under what authority and under what law he has abrogated contracts entered into by the department and awarded other and specific contracts without due advertising as required by law whether such contracts did or did not result in a great reduction in the wages paid mechanics and laborers engaged in the execution of said labor, and an increase in the hours of labor, and if so, to what extent

Mr De La Matyr introduced a bill for funding municipal indebtedness in United States paper money It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to extinguish all city indebtedness by the issue of greenbacks which are to be immediately used in payment of such debts, also providing for a greenback currency to the extent of $1,000,000,000, and for the relief of financial distress by granting aid to certain companies incorporated by State authorities, for the work of internal improvement [This is a variation of the $1,000,000,000 bills already published] Also providing for the payment of interest on the public debt and for funding said debt in United States paper money

A bill was also reported for the construction of a free bridge across the Potomac at or near Georgetown, but without closing of it the House at 4 45 adjourned and a Republican caucus was announced for the evening, whereat there were demonstrations of triumph on the Democratic side

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed and Great Damage Done to Property.

Freight sheds and Cars Destroyed.

STRATFORD, Ont., May 5. A terrible explosion of nitro-glycerine here blew up the Grand Trunk freight sheds. Several men were killed. One hundred and fifty cars were destroyed

Terrible Effects of the Explosion.

A few minutes before ten the whole town was shaken as if by an earthquake. Windows were blown in and even the sidewalks upon which people were walking were shaken so as to cause pedestrians to fall. A car loaded with dynamite had exploded in the Grand Trunk freight yard — The wreck the explosion made beggars description. Underneath the dynamite car a hole several feet deep has been scooped out by the explosion. The end of the freight shed and a portion of the roof were blown down Several frame buildings were leveled to the ground, and the long string of freight cars in the yard were utterly wrecked. The business part of the town is nearly a mile from the scene of the explosion, but shared in the disaster Valuable plate glass windows were broken, and many others blown in, frames and all The damage to property is estimated at many thousands. Two railway employes were blown into fragments and others injured The whole extent of the disaster cannot be known for some time

Over $200,000 Damage

A careful examination shows the damage by the explosion to be much greater than was expected The houses around the freight shed were nearly all wooden buildings Several were blown to fragments — Fifty cars were blown to splinters and as many damaged The building at the entrance of the yard, in which were three men, was blown into a thousand pieces, one man was injured and the others miraculously escaped without a scratch A fragment of iron, weighing over a pound, was driven through a window of the Crown Hotel half a mile from the explosion. The shock was felt in all the surrounding towns and was supposed to be an earthquake— The dynamite was billed as blasting powder and was to be used on the Detroit tunnel The damage will not exceed $200,000.

The Hanlon Hawden Boat Race.

NEW CASTLE-ON-TYNE, May 5 The single scull race on the Tyne between Edward Hanlon and John Hawdon, for £200 a side, to-day, resulted in a victory for Hanlon The weather was splendid. The course was from High Level bridge to Suspension bridge, at Scarswood, three miles and three furlongs Hanlon won the race by six lengths, time 32 minutes and 5 seconds. He won with the greatest ease

NEW YORK, May 5. The Telegram says that Hanlon won by four lengths ahead of Hawdon, and could have done better There was a strong wind

Hanlon's Easy Victory.

LONDON, May 5 In the race Hanlon won the toss for position and took the north side They made a good start and at the end of the first one hundred yards Hanlon was a length ahead and at Redheugh bridge he was three lengths ahead. Hawdon struggled manfully while Hanlon continued in easy going style. Several times Hanlon allowed Hawdon to come up with him but quickly resumed the lead looking over his shoulder at short intervals to see his course. Two or three times Hanlon stopped rowing and sponged the water out of his boat He could have won by any distance he liked. Such a race was never seen on the Tyne.

THE CHOLERA

WASHINGTON

The Legislative Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, May 5 The Senate Committee on appropriations has nearly completed consideration of the Legislative bill and expect to report it back to the Senate to-morrow The Committee has stricken from the bill the clause by which the House proposes to require the Secretary of the Treasury to issue immediately in payment of arrearages of pensions, ten millions of legal tenders held as a special fund for the redemption of fractional currency The Committee also amended the bill so as to restore the numbers and pay of Senate employees to the present figures which the House proposed to reduce

THE POCASSET HORROR

Funeral of the Victim—Attempted Public Defence of the Murderer.

BOSTON, May 5 The examination of Mr and Mrs Freeman of Pocasset, whose frightful crime in killing their child has been reported, took place on Saturday at Barnstable and resulted in their being committed to await the action of the Grand Jury The funeral of Little Edith took place in the Methodist church at Pocasset Saturday, and was very largely attended The pastor of the church improved the opportunity to give his deluded fellow-townsmen some highly sensible and much needed advice A very disgraceful scene took place over the grave where one Allen P. Davis acted very like a mad man. He made a speech in which he attempted to defend the conduct of his friend who had so recently murdered his little child but the angry crowd refused to listen and jeered him. The revolting scene was terminated only through the efforts of one of the Selectmen and Rev Mr Williams, the Methodist clergyman, who expostulated with the man for his unbecoming conduct, and after taking a vote of the crowd and finding himself greatly in the minority, Davis finally subsided. The strange thing was that some of those present sustained Davis. Great excitement prevails.

Arrests to be Made

POCASSET, May 5. At a public meeting to-day it was unanimously resolved to arrest eight of Freeman's co-religionists as accessories to his crime.

A CASE OF INSANITY. Messrs. C. R. Brown and C D Chase, of Springfield, arrived in this city yesterday morning with a young man named Roland Dudley, who has been insane now for about a month. He formerly resided in Princeton, Washington County, but has been living in Springfield for about a year. At times he is quite violent and the gentlemen who had him in charge, were obliged to keep handcuffs on him all of the time. On the arrival of the train in this city he was taken in a hack to the jail and will be removed to Augusta this morning It is said that disappointment in a love affair is the cause of his insanity.

This raft pulled almost apart coming through the sluice, then struck against the pier below the dam and finally broke the boom in Mosart. Cutler & Eddy's dock. Here they made a line fast which entirely separated the raft, one half remaining in the dock and the other floating down river. With the aid of the tug they finally succeeding in making a landing below the Maine Central depot. The lumber dealers are feeling quite indignant as they say that every raft is now somewhat damaged as it passes through the sluice.

"PINAFORE." The opera "H. M. S. Pinafore" is undoubtedly one of the greatest musical successes ever written. It is the sensation of the day in the large cities where it is running constantly, week after week, at four and five theatres in a place, and it seems as if people could never get enough of it. It is safe to say the amount of "Pinafore" music sold, sung and played throughout the country to-day, is far beyond anything ever before known of the same sort. Of the fine company which will present this opera in Norombega Hall this evening the Boston Advertiser says "The performance was considered one of the most successful given in this vicinity"

A TOUGH DUCK A party of sportsmen from this city went down river recently to enjoy a week's duck shooting. One of the number who never saw a duck in the water, or fired a gun in his life, writes his friends here that he is having a perfectly immense time. In one of his letters he says that one of the number recently fired at a duck, which much to his surprise did not move in the water, and becoming quite disgusted this amateur sportsman blazed away, again and again, until he was fully impressed with the idea that he had instantly killed the duck at the first shot — After arriving at this conclusion he rowed out to secure his prize when, much to his chagrin and the amusement of the remainder of the party, he discovered that he had been wasting his ammunition on one of the trollers

COAT STOLEN AND RECOVERED. Yesterday afternoon at about four o'clock as Mr S D Parsons stepped into his office, in the E & N A depot block, he discovered that some one had been in during his absence and helped themselves to his heavy overcoat He is in the habit of leaving his door open so that any one can go in or out when they see fit, in order to accommodate the various captains with whom he does business He went down on the street where he was informed that a man came down the stairs some time before with a coat on his arm, and after looking around for a few seconds started up the street Mr Parsons informed officer Weymouth of the theft and he told officer Clark that a coat been stolen and to be on the lookout for it Soon after this officer Clark started down Exchange street, when he saw Steph Silk coming out of Kinney's eating house with a coat on his arm and knowing that he never owned but one coat at a time in his life, Mr. C asked him where he obtained the extra coat Steph insisted that a friend had made him a present of it, but as he did not take any stock in the story Mr C started with him for the station house and on the way over met officer Weymouth who recognized the coat When he saw that his little game was up Steph remarked, Be as easy with me as you can, for I believe that I did take the coat

AT THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Sunday morning the services were of a very interesting nature, a large number being a part of the fruit of the recent revival, uniting with the church The floral decorations were very appropriate and beautiful, being composed entirely of May flowers The pulpit was adorned with festoons and bouquets but the chief attraction was a cross nearly three feet tall, made of the beautiful pink and white arbutus which stood upon the communion table The cross was very much admired by all who saw it Rev Mr Speare delivered an address designed principally as a welcome to the new members, but in his opening remarks he mentioned the fact that the first time he occupied that pulpit was the first Sunday in May last year, and he took occasion to extend his thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy with which he had been treated during the year, and expressed his gratitude that the year had been pleasant and profitable not only to him but to the people. After the address the ordinance of baptism was administered to twenty seven persons and fifty eight persons were admitted to membership in the church, forty three of them on profession of faith and fifteen by letter This is said to be the largest number ever admitted to this church at one time since the year eighteen hundred and forty, when seventy eight united at one time The congregation in attendance upon the services was large and interested

AID FOR THE COLORED REFUGEES

Public Meeting Held in Topsham

A meeting of citizens of Topsham took place May 1st, the aims of which the following resolution explains

Whereas as a legitimate and unavoidable result of the late war, the colored people of the South were thrown upon their own resources as free-men, uneducated and unprepared for such circumstances of life and whereas, while recognizing the hand of all wise Providence in the emancipation of the slaves we believe that the sovereign people of the Nation assumed the moral obligation, born of that act, to aid them to become free and independent citizens politically, financially and socially and,

Whereas in consequence of the attitude of a majority of the white people of the South every effort of ours to perform this duty by legislation has been frustrated, and believing that the exodus of a portion of the colored laborers will remove the evil of terrorism existing in that section by causing capital to respect the labor which remains, therefore,

Resolved, First that we appeal to all good citizens, in the name of Justice and Humanity to aid a race suffering from poverty and ignorance, and fleeing from political persecution. Second, that a committee of seven be appointed to receive contributions from the citizens of Topsham to be forwarded to responsible parties, and to be used in aiding the Freedmen of the South to emigrate thence and establish homes where their social and political rights will be accorded them, third, that we respectfully recommend that similar action be taken immediately by the citizens of every city and town in the State of Maine

Last Wednesday morning the Portland Press published an account of the mysterious disappearance of Miss Hattie C. Witham, and the statement was then made, that no positive information was derived from the officers of the Forest City that Miss Witham ever went to Boston on the boat, although she bought a ticket and was registered as a passenger, and it was possible she had jumped overboard. Further investigation reveals the facts that the clerk took up the tickets before the steamer reached the Two Lights; that the steward, Mr. Brown, says Miss Witham acted strangely and changed her state room to the extreme one in the after part of the boat; that the watchman turned the light out shining into her stateroom, and on being asked by the steward why he did it, as the lady would be left in darkness, replied no lady was there for the door was open and also the state room window. Finally she was not seen to leave the boat at Boston.

SEDGWICK AND BLUEHILL.

Silver and Copper Mining—An Interesting Excursion.

The trim little steamer Sea Flower, Capt Blake, made the first excursion of the season on Thursday last, taking a small party to Bluehill to look over the mining interests of that now somewhat famous locality, and stopping on the way at Sedgwick to see the property of the Edgemoggin Silver Mining and Smelting Company The day was a delightful one, the air balmy and the water for the most part smooth as a mill pond, making the sail down the river a delightful one A slight which added to the interest of all was the great flocks of black duck, numbering thousands, and throughing the bay, through which the boat passed, in many instances approaching within two or three rods before taking wing About one o'clock we arrived at where we spent half an hour looking over the works of the Edgemoggin Silver Mining and Smelting Company consisting of a shaft, close by the water's edge sunk to a depth of forty-seven and one-half feet, opening a vein varying in thickness from two to four feet, with well defined walls and showing good evidences of silver with strong indications of improvement in the quality and quantity of ore as the shaft increases in depth. A large building for smelting works has been erected, supplied with extensive and costly machinery for roasting and smelting silver ore Owing to the embarrassment caused by the large outlay made, before the output of the mine warranted or required it,—but which was partially due to the expectation that ores for smelting would also be furnished from other mines—the parties working the mine were obliged to suspend operations

The mine and works have now been leased to the New England Silver Mining Company,—organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut with a capital stock of $1,000 000 —for the term of twenty years, paying therefor $100,000, or ten per cent of the stock of the new Company, and twenty five per cent of the profits, and also the expense of insurance on the property. A meeting of the Company was to be held in Boston last Thursday to decide upon their plan of operations Meanwhile the Superintendent Mr A P Currier of Sedgwick, is at work with a force of ten men which is all that can be employed at the present stage of the work

Adverse winds and tide impeded, somewhat the progress of our little steamer, so that it was eight o'clock before we made a landing at

BLUEHILL

This is a pretty quiet village of some two thousand inhabitants, commanding a fine view, and from Bluehill mountain a short distance in the rear of the village, a most commanding and extensive view is to be had, embracing the waters and islands of Frenchman's Bay, Mt Desert, etc etc.

The town contains several extensive quarries, producing granite of the finest quality, and giving employment to large numbers of men when business is good Owing to the dullness of the times work has been suspended for some time, but will soon be commenced at the Chase mine where employment will be given to some seventy five men a contract having been obtained for furnishing granite for a new Post Office in Pennsylvania at a price closely approaching $80 000 The town also contains one or two saw mill, several stores, two churches, an Academy, two hotels and another nearly ready for occupancy, Although the town is an old one and has been settled many years, its inhabitants have had no suspicion that underneath them lay extensive beds of until three years ago the present month when discoveries were made on the farm of a Mr Douglass, of a vein of ore which being subjected to assay, was found to contain copper, iron, silver and traces of gold. An attempt was made to organize a company to work it but with little or no success as the people who had lived in the town all their lives could not be persuaded that a rich bed of minerals lay around and beneath them without their having discovered it

At length Mr B O Cutler, of California, and formerly of this city who had come east on the occasion of the Centennial exhibition, saw some specimens in the window of Hallows's apothecary store, and on examination expressed the belief that if there was any amount of ore like that it would pay to work it He went to Bluehill, and as a result of his explorations, the Bluehill Copper Mining and Smelting Company was formed with Mr. Cutler as Superintendent and General Manager, the other officers and Directors belonging in Boston, as follows President S C. Blanchard, Treasurer—Thos H. Lord, Secretary, N P Pendleton, Directors, S C Blanchard, Joseph Nickerson, Barker McNeal, Frank B Dole and Manning Emery

They have purchased a territory embracing sixty six acres in extent, and after making an extensive examination of the outcropping veins have commenced sinking a shaft which has now reached a depth of about forty feet and which will strike the vein—which inclines to the south at an angle of about 35 degrees—at a further depth of from ten to twenty feet Sluices have also been built, by means of which the ore is washed and a rail track on which the ore is conveyed to the crushing mill, where by an interesting process it is crushed, ground, sifted through a series of sieves with meshes respectively, eight, sixteen, thirty sixty and a hundred to the inch, and finally separated, the rock dust being blown away, and the ore concentrated, after which it is packed in barrels containing some 600 pounds each, ready to be sent away to be smelted.

The works are very extensive, supplied with the best and most expensive machinery and cost a large amount of money. In addition to the machinery already in, more is on the way by means of which even the finest and most impalpable dust which now is useless, can be utilized and the valuable ore separated from the worthless mass of powered stone. The location of this mine is higher up on the hill than the originally discovered outcropping, although a continuation of the same vein, which at this place is about eight feet in width. The vein, so far as traced, is about a mile and a half long, running north-east by south-west, and the mineral belt covers a width of some five hundred feet in which, it is believed, there are several veins like the one now being worked The Company is now employing some twenty-five men, which number they will soon increase, and run day and night.

At the "Douglass" mine, where the first discovery was made, and which lies at the northern extremity of the vein, the

are drifting on the vein and getting out some handsome specimens of ore. They have gone down about twenty feet. As they are working directly on the vein they are getting out a large quantity of ore which seems to be inexhaustible in quantity and which is said to contain from two to forty per cent, of pure copper As we have seen no report of the results of smelting the ores which have been shipped from the mines, we do not undertake to speak on that point We only say that such as they are the ores are apparently exhaustless, and if they prove of the richness claimed the Bluehill mines contain an immense amount of wealth and will give occupation to a large number of men for long years to come

The officers of this Company are Henry L Gregory, Rockland, President and Superintendent, Wm B Swazey, Bucksport Treasurer, Henry B Darling, Bluehill Secretary

South of the Bluehill Mining Co, and on what is known as Stover Hill a new Company known as the

have begun operations This is mostly owned by Bangor parties, Josiah S Ricker being President and Wm P Hubbard Secretary and Treasurer They own thirty acres of land covering the same vein that runs through the other mines have erected a blacksmith shop and commenced sinking a shaft on Saturday This mine, besides showing the same indications of copper as the two former, shows a vein largely composed of copper and iron pyrites, which it is said can be profitably worked in the production of sulphuric acid and copperas the proximity to tide water making the expense of transportation to market much below that of any of the present points of production Nature has provided excellent facilities for a water mill for stamping or crushing if one be desired, at a place known as the Jim Douglass's farm between the Bluehill and the Douglass claims two large ponds being situated one forty feet higher than the other, and only divided by a strip about eight hundred to a thousand feet in width and through only a portion of that would a channel have to be cut from ten to twenty feet deep furnishing the best of water power with a head if desired of forty feet. The ore taken from these mines is composed of copper glance, copper pyrites black oxide and free copper mixed together

SILVER MINING

After examining the copper mine we paid a visit to the silver mine known as the Wheal Freddie situated at Bluehill falls a distance of some three miles from the village This mine appears and claimed to be on the same vein as the Sullivan mines, some twenty or twenty five miles distant and appears to be a true fissure vein, with the hanging and foot walls plainly marked and having the clay seam said to be inseparable from true fissure vein.

General John I Hodsdon of this city is President and L C Smart Secretary and Treasurer of the company owning and operating this mine. The Superintendent is Mr Fred A McLaughlin an old Bangor boy and an experienced California miner That he understands his business appears to be evident from the scientific and workmanlike manner in which the woodwork in the shaft and the whim for hoisting are constructed as well as the manner in which the shaft has been sunk to its present depth of some forty feet While not claiming that paying ore has yet been reached Mr McLaughlin is sanguine of success believing the result thus far attained to have fully borne out the indications which to an old miner mark the true fissure vein which carries argentiferous or auriferous deposits As the shaft has not reached a sufficient depth to warrant drifting but a small number of men are at present employed it is proposed however to add to the present force and prosecute the work night and day Assays have been made of specimens taken from this shaft which have shown silver and gold to the value of $10 to the ton

In the above report of his visit to the mines, our reporter has endeavored only to give a statement of facts relating thereto, without bias or prejudice and without entering upon the question of their future success can truly and without fear of contradiction guarantee a profitable employment of the time and expenditure upon visit thereto by any one interested in geology or mineralogy whether or not he desires to take an active and pecuniary interest in mining operations

After a day pleasantly spent our little party embarked at half past ten P M on the Sea Flower reaching home at twelve o'clock Saturday, the swift current caused by the present high freshet much impeding the run up river

ST. NICHOLAS,

Scribner's Illustrated Magazine

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

AN IDEAL CHILDREN'S MAGAZINE.

Messrs. SCRIBNER & Co., in 1873, began the publication of ST. NICHOLAS, an Illustrated Magazine for Girls and Boys, with Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge as editor. Five years have passed since the first number was issued, and the magazine has won the highest position. It has a monthly circulation of OVER 50,000 COPIES.

It is published simultaneously in London and New York, and the transatlantic recognition is almost as general and hearty as the American. Although the progress of the magazine has been steady and assured, it has not reached the editor's ideas of best, because her ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after. To day by NICHOLAS stands

Alone in the World of Books:

The New York Tribune has said of it: "ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for its service wider resources in art and letters than any of its predecessors or contemporaries." The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of Scribner's press."

Good Things for 1878-9.

The arrangements for literary and art contributions for the new volume—the sixth—are complete, drawing from already favorite sources, as well as from promising new ones. Mr. Frank R. Stockton's new serial story for boys, will run through the twelve monthly parts—the opening with the number for November. The first of the volume—and will be illustrated by James E. Kelly. The story is one of travel and adventure in Florida and the Bahamas. For the girls a continued tale,

"A JOLLY FELLOWSHIP,"

"Half a Dozen Housekeepers,"

By Katharine D. Smith, with illustrations by Fredrick Dielman, begins in the same number, and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "What Katy did," with plenty of pictures, will be commenced early in the volume. There will also be a continued fairy tale called

"Rumpty Dudget's Tower,"

Written by Julian Hawthorne, and illustrated by Alfred Fredericks. About the other timpiner features of St. Nicholas (the other prose, as a good humored silence, content perhaps to let her five volumes already issued, prattle for her concerning the work, in respect to short stories, pictures, poems, humor, instructive sketches, and the famous history of "Jackanapes the Rulpit," the Very Little Folks' department, and the "Letter Box") and "Riddle Box."

SCRIBNERS MONTHLY,

CONDUCTED BY J. G. HOLLAND.

The Handsomest Illustrated Magazine in the World.

The American edition of this periodical is now

MORE THAN 70,000 MONTHLY,

And it has a larger circulation in England than any other American magazine. Every number contains about one hundred and fifty pages, and fifty to twenty five original wood cut illustrations.

Announcements for 1878-9.

Among the attractions for the coming year are the following:

"HAWORTH'S," a serial novel, by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, author of "That Lass o' Lowries." The scene of Mrs. Burnett's new novel is laid in Lancashire, England, the hero is a young inventor of American birth. "Haworth's" is the longest story Mrs. Burnett has yet written. It will run through twelve numbers of the Monthly, beginning with the November, 1878, and will be profusely illustrated.

FALLONBERG, a serial novel, by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," "The Man who Lost His Name," &c. In this romance, the author graphically describes the peculiarities of Norse immigrant life in a Western settlement.

A STORY OF NEW ORLEANS, by George W. Cable, to be begin on the conclusion of "Falconberg." This story will exhibit the state of society in Creole Louisiana about the year 1803, at the time of the Cession, and a period bearing a remarkable likeness to the present Reconstruction period.

PORTRAITS OF AMERICAN POETS. This series (begun in August with the portrait of Bryant) will be continued, that of Longfellow appearing in November. These portraits are drawn from life by Wyatt Eaton and engraved by T. Cole. They will be printed separately on tinted paper, as frontispieces of four different numbers. Illustrated sketches of the lives of the poets will accompany these portraits.

STUDIES IN THE SIERRAS.—A series of papers (mostly illustrated) by John Muir the Californian naturalist. The most graphic and picturesque and, withal, the most accurate and trustworthy studies of "the California Alps" that have yet been made. The series will sketch the California Passes, Lakes, Winds, Storms and Forests.

A NEW VIEW OF BRAZIL. Mr. Herbert H. Smith, of Cornell University, who accompanied the late Prof. Hartt, is now in Brazil, with Mr. J. Wells Champney (the artist who accompanied Mr. Edward King through "The Great South"), preparing for SCRIBNER a series of papers on the present condition,—the cities, rivers and resources of the great empire of South America.

THE "JOHNNY REB" PAPERS, by an "ex Confederate" soldier, will be among the raciest contributions to Scribner during the coming year. They are written and illustrated by Mr. Allen C. Redwood, of Baltimore. The first of the series, "Johnny Reb at Play," appears in the November number.

THE LEADING EUROPEAN UNIVERSITIES. We are now having prepared, for SCRIBNER, articles on the leading Universities of Europe. They will be written by American College Professors, Mr. H. H. Boyesen of Cornell, author of "Falconberg," etc., and will include sketches of the leading universities of the most important Universities of Great Britain and Continental Europe.

Among the additional series of papers to appear may be mentioned those on HOW SHALL WE SPEAK (two papers by Prof. Lounsbury), THE NEW SOUTH, LAWN PLANTING FOR SMALL PLACES (by Samuel Parsons, of Central Park), ASIA OF TO DAY, AMERICAN ART AND ART ISTS, AMERICAN ARCHÆOLOGY, MODERN INVENTORS, also, Papers on Science, Travel, History, Physical Science, Studies in Literature, Political and Social Science, Stories, Poems, "Topics of the Time," by Dr. G. Holland, record of New Inventions and Mechanical Improvements, Papers on Education, Decoration, etc. Book Reviews, great lots of Wit and Humor, etc., etc., etc.

Terms, $4 a Year in advance;

35 cents a Number.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the Office will find it much more convenient to have it the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first top supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the uptown boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

☞ The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as their expense is less, and letters thus endorsed if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $2.25 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars. Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.
